

The Daily Republican

Rushville, Indiana, Friday Evening, January 2, 1914.

Weather

Snow and colder tonight;
Saturday colder; probably snow flurries.

Single Copies, 2 Cents.

FIRST ACADEMY TEACHER IS DEAD

Dr. A. R. Benton, who Was Identified With Early History of Fairview Institute, Expires.

TAUGHT HERE FOR FIVE YEARS

A Coincidence That He Was Retained as First Instructor, as He Was Visiting in Neighborhood

Word was received here today of the death yesterday of Allen Richardson Benton, first teacher in the old Fairview Academy, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. S. Bales, at Lincoln, Nebraska. He was in his ninety-second year.

Mr. Benton, after severing his connection with the Fairview institution in 1854, was elected to the chair of ancient languages in Northwestern Christian university in Indianapolis. He remained with this institution until 1868, serving as its president the last seven years.

From 1869 to 1871 he was president of Alliance College, Alliance, O. In the latter year he was called to direct the establishment of the new University of Nebraska. In 1876 he went to Indianapolis to accept the chair of philosophy at Butler and continued there until 1900, serving as president from 1886 to 1891.

At the death of his wife in 1900, Dr. Benton retired from teaching and devoted himself to church work. He returned to Lincoln, Neb., in 1909, and had resided there since with his daughter, Mrs. Bales. He is survived by two other children, H. A. Benton, who lives at Indianapolis, and Mrs. W. A. Stewart of Lincoln.

The Fairview Academy was organized in 1848. W. W. Thrasher and Henry R. Prichard canvassed the community and enlisted the support of the substantial citizens who readily entered into the scheme. Wm. Shawhan donated four acres for a site and the money was subscribed. The building was finished in the fall of 1849.

It was by the merest chance that A. R. Benton became the first teacher the academy ever had. He had just been graduated from Bethany college in the spring of 1849 and was visiting relatives in the Fairview neighborhood. Mr. Prichard met Mr. Benton at the home E. S. Frazee's. The young college graduate was instantly recognized as a man of intrinsic qualities for the work for which he was wanted.

Mr. Benton was promptly engaged and he began the school work in the office of Dr. Ephraim Clifford before the building was completed. The academy thrived under Mr. Benton's management and it soon came to be recognized as a school without a peer in the West. The course was the same as that of a classical college of the day. Students from several states attended the academy and its fame spread far and wide.

Dr. Benton was born in Ira, Cayuga county, New York, October 1st, 1822, and after attending an academy, began teaching in the public schools at the age of fifteen. He taught school six years, took a preparatory course in Fulton academy and then entered Bethany college, West Virginia. He was graduated in 1847, received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1848 and his Master of Arts degree in 1849.

The Jacksonian office will be closed Saturday morning from 10 o'clock until 12 o'clock on account of the funeral of William M. Newbold, the father of Will Newbold, one of the owners of the paper.

ISAAC N. HARRISON DEAD

Passed Away Following Operation at Sanitorium.

Isaac N. Harrison, 70 years old, well known resident of Richland, died last night at eight o'clock at the Sexton sanitorium following an operation for kidney disease. Mr. Harrison had undergone an operation some time ago and for a time improved but complications developed and death was expected for several days. Mr. Harrison was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Jane Harrison, who died yesterday at her home near Richland. Mr. Harrison is survived by his widow. One brother, John Brown Harrison, also survives. The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at the Methodist church in Richland and burial will take place in the cemetery there.

WEEK OF PRAYER IS COMING NEXT

Protestant Denominations Will Discuss "Evangelism" in Series of Union Meetings.

IS AN ANNUAL CUSTOM HERE

The week of prayer will be observed next week with a series of union meetings by the Protestant denominations of Rushville. This custom is followed by all denominations throughout the country the first week in January. "Evangelism" will be the general topic for the week. A large attendance of the public is urged. The services begin each evening at 7:30 o'clock for the first five nights. The program is as follows:

Monday, Subject, "The Church and the Unconverted"—J. B. Meacham United Presbyterian church.

Tuesday, Subject—"Picketing With Prayer"—Rev. A. D. Batchelor, Baptist Church.

Wednesday, subject—"Personal Persuasion"—Rev. C. M. Yocom, Methodist church.

Thursday, Subject—"Confessing Christ"—Rev. A. W. Jamieson, Christian church.

Friday, subject—"Personal Responsibility"—Rev. S. G. Huntington, Presbyterian church.

SECOND CHARGE IS MADE

Cordia Martin Also Pleads Not Guilty to Robbing Store.

Cordia Martin, the jail breaker, who is held in the Hancock county jail at Greenfield on a charge of robbing the New Palestine bank, yesterday was arraigned in the Hancock court on another charge. This time he is accused of breaking into the Spot Cash store and the interurban station at Greenfield. He pleaded not guilty to this charge as well as to the first one. Martin was caught in Ohio a week ago and is being carefully guarded all the time so that he may not duplicate his former performances at the Greenfield jail.

KNOCKED THROUGH GLASS

Horace Jones is wanted by the police for assault and battery on Virgil Smith. The fight occurred last night in the entrance to the Powell pool room in Main street. Jones knocked Smith through the glass in one of the doors. Smith filed the charge against him this morning before Squire Kratzer but as yet the police have not succeeded in locating Jones.

WILL INCREASE FARMERS TRADE

Extension of Weight Limit to Fifty Pounds Expected to Cause Shipment of More Products.

FEWER MIDDLEMEN NEEDED BY THE MIDDLE OF NEXT WEEK

When Spring Business Opens up it is Believed Parcel Post Business Will be Tripled.

The raising of the weight limit from twenty to fifty pounds in the first two zones on parcel post packages, which went into effect yesterday, is expected to develop this new department for the delivery of farm products and it is thought will have much to do with doing away with the middlemen, is the opinion of many.

During the first six months of the service, notwithstanding its high rates and restricted business, the parcel post made $14,000,000. That much money was added to the postal revenues between January 1 and June 30. During the last six months it is believed that the parcel post traffic almost double in volume.

This opinion is based on two facts. The merchants of all the leading cities and towns last fall turned their retail package business over to the parcel post. They did not patronize the new postal system last spring because then it was more or less an experiment. In addition to this large retail package business the Christmas traffic was the heaviest in the history of the postoffice department. Telegrams and reports from the postoffices of the country show that all previous records were smashed during the Christmas week. Many postoffices reported increases ranging from 300 to 600 per cent.

Yesterday the second extension of the parcel post service went into effect. This extension raises the weight limit in the first and second zones, within distances of 225 miles of rail line from the shipping point, from twenty to fifty pounds and increases the weight limit in the next four zones to twenty pounds. A big reduction in rates for the third, fourth, fifth and sixth zones is embraced in the extension. Under this extension it is believed that the traffic when the spring business opens up will triple that of last fall.

FUNERAL TO BE SATURDAY

Mrs. Martha Mattingly Expires at Home Near Manilla.

The funeral of Mrs. Martha Mattingly, age seventy years, who died at her home in this county, near Manilla yesterday of pneumonia, with which she suffered only a few days, will be held at two o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Manilla Christian church, with the Rev. James L. Brown officiating. Mrs. Mattingly had been married three times, but two of her husbands and two children are dead. She leaves five sons and four daughters.

HIT WITH BALE OF STRAW

William Love of Fairview, sustained a broken leg and several painful bruises in a peculiar accident yesterday afternoon. Love was engaged in hauling straw and was walking at the side of the wagon. One of the bales in some manner worked loose from the others and fell, striking Mr. Love. The bone in the left leg was broken near the ankle and the ligaments torn loose.

END OF STRIKE IN SIGHT TODAY

Solicitor John Densmore Says Controversy in Michigan Copper District Will be Settled

FEWER MIDDLEMEN NEEDED BY THE MIDDLE OF NEXT WEEK

First Definite Step For Settlement Today When Operators Agree to Consider Mediation.

(By United Press.) Calumet, Mich., Jan. 2.—The first definite step for the settlement of the great labor war in upper Michigan was made today when it was officially stated that the mining operators had agreed to recede from their original position and consider plans for mediation.

This announcement was made by John Densmore, solicitor for the department of labor at Washington, who has been here since the Christmas eve panic which caused the death of seventy-two persons and aroused anew the controversy between the Western Federation of miners and operators.

All previous efforts to have the mine operators consider a compromise have met with flat failures.

The terms of the agreement have not been announced. Solicitor Densmore predicted the end of the copper mine strike by the middle of next week.

ANOTHER INVESTIGATION

Special Attorney Will Look Into Shooting of C. H. Moyer.

(By United Press.) Calumet, Mich., Jan. 2.—A special investigation of the shooting of Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, is to be begun here by Special Attorney Nichol. This will be entirely independent of the inquiry which is now being conducted by the county grand jury that is investigating the Christmas eve panic and the alleged deportation of the Federation head.

LIND EXPECTED TO LAND AT ANY TIME

Officers Carries Message From Special Mexican Envoy, Who is on Boat Near the Shore.

NEW STORIES ARE AFLOAT

(By United Press.) Pass Christian, Miss., Jan. 2.—The conference between President Wilson and John Lind, his special envoy to Mexico, was expected to take place late this afternoon, but up to one-thirty o'clock Mr. Lind had not shown up at the winter White House.

The president played nine holes of golf on the links this morning. At ten-thirty this morning the launch Winona delivered an officer who gave a message from Lind to a secret service man. He said there was no advance information on the conference.

Various new stories are afloat concerning the proposed meeting of president Wilson and his envoy, but none of them is believed to be authentic.

WORK HALTED BY STRIKE

Adjustment of Wage of Iron Workers May be Reached.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 2.—With work temporarily halted on seven skyscrapers by a strike of the iron workers, a conference this afternoon was expected to pave the way for a satisfactory adjustment of the wage demand and working conditions within a few days. B. A. Bassey, of the union, says that four contractors have signed the agreement. About two hundred and fifty are affected by the walkout.

200 KILLED IN BATTLE TODAY

Federals Still Put up Stubborn Resistance to Advances of Rebels at Ojinaga.

SUFFER HEAVIEST LOSSES

(By United Press.) Presidio, Texas, Jan. 2.—The battle between the Mexican Rebels and Federals at Ojinaga, across the border from here, raged without interference today. Before the assault by the superior force of Rebels the Federals offered a stubborn resistance and refused to be driven back. Although the wounded insisted on fighting, they were being carried off the field as fast as possible.

Officers of the United States army here estimated that about two hundred, mostly Federals, had been killed in the fighting today.

WILL RECEIVE REFUGEES

Troops Ordered to Permit People to Come in From Ojinaga.

(By United Press.) Washington, Jan. 2.—General Woods today ordered troops along the Mexican border to permit refugees from Ojinaga to cross to the American side and to treat them as humanity would dictate. The troops were also ordered to co-operate with the Red Cross in supplying the wants of the stricken people who escaped.

MANY WOMEN AFTER JOB

Several Would be Superintendent of Indiana Woman's Prison.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 2.—A dozen women were candidates for superintendent of the Indiana Woman's Prison at a meeting of the trustees held today. It was announced that no decision would be reached at this time as the board desired to consider fully the qualifications of all applicants.

At present Miss Addie Bond is acting superintendent in place of Miss Emily E. Rhoades, resigned.

BILLBOARDS DECORATED

(By United Press.) Gary, Ind., Jan. 2.—Still to be seen on billboards here and in many other Indiana cities and towns are great posters depicting the birth of the Christ Child, spreading the significance of Christmas. No advertising connects itself with the posters; they are simply the gift of the bill posters to the various cities.

LIFE OF PIANIST IS THREATENED

Ignace Paderewski Declines to Discuss Reports That he is in Constant Danger.

HIS WIFE CONFIRMS STORY

Is Accused of Subsidizing Warsaw Newspapers Which Conducted an Anti-Semitic Campaign.

(By United Press.) Colorado Springs, Colo., Jan. 2—Ignace Paderewski, the noted Polish pianist, who arrived here today from Denver, declined to discuss the reports that he had been threatened with death for subsidizing a newspaper at Warsaw, which has been conducting an anti-Semitic campaign.

His wife, however, in a statement today, confirmed the report. She said that threats had been made to blow up his private car at Denver, which caused him to leave there hastily last night without appearing in the concert which he was scheduled to give.

Six private detectives accompanied him from Denver to this city this morning. He is to give a concert here tonight, but his wife declared that she doubted if he would venture on the stage even here. She declared that her husband's dread of the Nihilists had made him a nervous wreck.

It was not only the threat, but the fact that the pianist had learned that Nihilists had followed him to Denver, which caused him to call off his concert a few hours before it was to begin.

LEAVES DENVER HURRIEDLY.

(Special to the Daily Republican) Denver Colo., Jan. 2—After having been guarded here all night by detectives in his private car, Ignace Paderewski, who was billed for a concert at the Denver Auditorium last night, left suddenly for Colorado Springs, declaring he was too ill to give the performance.

K. OF P. INSTALLATION.

The Knights of Pythias will have installation of officers on next Monday nights. Attendance is desired.

Selling More "Hellos"

Have you followed the interesting advertising campaigns the telephone companies have been carrying on?

It is to many a novel idea to use newspaper space to sell "Hellos"—but it has been a big success in the cities where it has been tried.

The telephone has ceased to be a luxury and has become a necessity—another case of a worthy article being sold by advertising.

If newspaper advertising will sell such an intangible thing as a "Hello" (in this case another name for service) what will it not do?

Given a worthy cause to preach, advertising will move mountains.

The "winged word" sent flying by the great whizzing newspaper presses is going to be a mighty factor in the world's work in this great year 1914.

EXPERIMENT HAS FATAL RESULTS

Unknown Count Administers Injection of Suspended Animation Cure to Himself.

INTERESTED IN HINDO LORE

People of Elizabethtown, Ky., Where he Tried Out His Researches, Are in a Quandry.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Jan. 2.—Count August Schaeefelsky De Mukadel De Castellane Seymore of New York, Paris, San Francisco and New Rochelle, is dead here as the result of a self-administered injection of a suspended animation culture. The count was greatly interested in suspended animation and had read much of Hindoo lore on the subject. The theory held by the count was that a drug obtained from a certain Russian plant would produce a suspension of activity in the human organism to such an extent as to deceive the most practiced eye. To all appearances the person would be dead. In the circumstances it is believed that no burial service will be held until sufficient time has elapsed to demonstrate the error of the count's theory.

The count had expressed a desire to be buried near Tom Paine, who is believed by some persons to be interred at New Rochelle, N. Y. Word from Henry M. Lester, president of the Huguenot association, which owns the old Tom Paine house near the Tom Paine monument at New Rochelle, says that the body of the distinguished philosopher and writer is not there at all. He says it was stolen more than a hundred years ago and taken to England.

ENTERS VIGOROUS PROTEST

German Government Takes Up Killing of Teutor in Mexico.

Mexico City, Jan. 2.—The German minister has gone to Leon, in the state of Guanajuato, to investigate personally the death of a man of the name of Heller, who was a German citizen, murdered supposedly by rurales. Heller was a school teacher and was on his way to Europe. He was waiting for a train to take him to Vera Cruz, when about midnight he was shot dead on the station platform, and it was found that the bullet was from a gun of the Mauser type which was issued by the government. Ten rurales were sleeping in the station at the time, and all were arrested. The German government ordered the minister to make an investigation.

Americans here comment rather sharply on the contrast of the energy shown by Germany in caring for its subjects with the apparent apathy displayed by the United States.

TALKING IT OVER TODAY

John Lind is the President's Guest at Beaulieu.

Pass Christian, Miss., Jan. 2.—President Wilson's conference with John Lind of Minnesota, his personal confidential representative to the provisional government of Mexico, was held this morning at Beaulieu, the temporary White House. The distinguished and only visitor whom the president will entertain during his vacation season, arrived aboard the scout cruiser Chester, which conveyed him from Vera Cruz, last night, but did not land until this morning, when he immediately was escorted to Beaulieu. The Chester's arrival was delayed more than twelve hours.

May Die From Losing Tooth.

Shelbyville, Ind., Jan. 2.—Mrs. Edward Peak, living near Waldron, is suffering from tetanus, the result of having a wisdom tooth pulled about two weeks ago, and her life is despaired of.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

Except for the work at the terminals, the construction of the Panama canal is finished.

George F. Hunter, editor of the News Advertiser, fell dead on his way to lunch in Chillicothe, O.

William Kennedy and Thomas Allison were blown to pieces near Dillingtown, Pa., by the explosion of dynamite which they were thawing out for use in road repair work.

John Mitchell, whose term of vice president of the American Federation of Labor has just expired, announces his retirement from official life, but says he will continue to work in the cause of union labor.

For the first time in a hundred years there was no official New Year's reception at the White House. The time-honored function was dispensed with because of the absence of President Wilson and his family.

Tony Stafford has brought suit at Charleston, W. Va., for $50,000 from former Governor Glasscock.

KING FERDINAND

King of Bulgaria Greeted With Derisive Cries in Parliament.

SOCIALIST DEPUTIES JEER AT THEIR KING

Ferdinand of Bulgaria Hooted In Parliament.

Sofia, Jan. 2.—An unprecedented demonstration against King Ferdinand marked the opening of the sovereign here yesterday. As the king and queen, with their sons, entered the parliament building the Socialist deputies shouted:

"Down with the monarchy! Long live the republic!"

When the king began to read his speech, one of the Socialists repeated the cry and added:

"Sixty thousand Bulgarians have been sacrificed for the grandeur of the monarchy."

All the Socialist deputies then left the hall in a body.

King Ferdinand took no notice of the episode. In his speech he said that relations between Bulgaria and Roumania have been resumed with mutual good will. He referred to an arrangement with Turkey which "will exclude misunderstandings." "Relations with Servia are being re-established."

As the royal party left the hall the members of the agrarian party stood like the other deputies, but did not return the royal salute.

ANOTHER TRACTION STRIKE

No Attempt Being Made to Run Cars at Hazelton.

Hazleton, Pa., Jan. 2.—All traffic on the lines of the Lehigh Traction road is completely tied up by a strike of the motormen and conductors following their inability to come to an agreement with the management on a new contract. No attempt is being made to run cars.

Girl Attacked by Negro.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 2.—Miss Esther Elser, aged nineteen, was attacked by a negro in the street and dragged into a dark alley, where the thief robbed her of a handbag containing several dollars in money, and then fled when the girl's screams attracted a crowd. The police department has been kept busy in the last few weeks with burglaries, holdups and other forms of crime.

"Cleverest Woman" in New Role.

New York, Jan. 2.—Miss Katherine B. Davis, the first woman to head a New York city department, who succeeds D. A. Whitney as commissioner of correction, arrived without any flourishes at her office at 9 o'clock this morning and went to work. John D. Rockefeller once characterized Miss Davis as the "cleverest woman I ever met."

A New Tower of Babel.

New York, Jan. 2.—Plans for a building to be erected on the block bounded by Broadway, Eighth avenue, Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth streets, and to be the highest building in the world, have been filed with the bureau of buildings. The structure, according to these plans, will be 894.6 feet high, will have fifty-one stories and will cost $12,500,000.

The Tasman Safely Landed.

Melbourne, Jan. 2.—The Dutch steamer Tasman, which was ashore in Torres strait several days ago and was pulled off a reef by a Japanese steamer, has arrived at Thursday Island. All on board are well, with the exception of Mme. Lillian Nordica, the opera singer, who is suffering from nervous prostration.

Hendrickson Clan Is Gone.

Pineville, Ky., Jan. 2.—Sheriff McCoy and five men explored the mine where members of the Hendrickson clan have been in hiding, but they found no trace of the mountaineers. It is assumed they escaped through a secret exit.

DISPOSES OF A $50,000 ESTATE

Property of Late George Williams of Knightstown is Divided Between Widow and Sons.

LIFE INSURANCE GOES TO HER Is Filed For Probate in Henry Circuit—Leaves Farm in Rush County.

[Special to the Daily Republican.] Newcastle, Ind., Jan. 2.—The will of the late George W. Williams, the Knightstown merchant and ex-state legislator, who died recently has been filed for probate in the county clerk's office. The instrument was written by the deceased on the correspondence paper of the George W. Williams company.

After stating that a partnership existed between himself and his two sons, Charles and Edward B., the instrument sets forth that because of this condition they are entitled to settle the business as surviving partners meaning that the store is bequeathed to them. Mr. Williams held one-half of the stock in the concern and his sons a fourth each.

After the debts of the deceased are paid, the entire property, including the business block in which it is located, is to revert to the two sons.

Life insurance to the amount of $10,000 is left to the widow in addition to the residence of the deceased and a farm in Rush county. A block of gas stock is to be divided equally between the sons and their mother.

Jerry Woods and the sons are named as executors of the estate which is valued by the deceased at between $40,000 and $50,000.

UNIONS PLAN TO BACK BIG STORE

Labor Organizations in Indianapolis Agitate Co-operative Department Establishment—To Sell

ONE PLACE OFFERED FOR SALE

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Jan. 2.—A co-operative department store backed by union labor organizations of Indianapolis is being agitated here today. The project has been carried up to the point where $10,000 was pledged for stock in the store.

A meeting of labor men is to be held tonight at which plans will be drawn up for a monster mass meeting in the city's biggest hall, to work up enthusiasm for the co-operative movement.

The present plans include the issuing of voting and non-voting stock, the former to unionmen, the latter to the public in general. Both kinds of stock will participate in annual dividends, to be declared by the board of directors after operating expenses have been paid and a reasonable sum set aside in a sinking fund to be used on future developments.

A temporary executive committee of thirty-seven men, representing the organized crafts of the city, has been named to carry on the negotiations. One hundred men have pledged themselves to sell fifty shares of stock each. The advocates of the co-operative store figure on starting with 10,000 stockholders at $10 a share.

The George J. Marott Department store, 342-358 Massachusetts avenue, a concern that has long been on the market for sale, is being offered to the union labor men behind the co-operative movement.

The funeral services of Mrs. Jane Harrison, who died yesterday at her home near Richland, will be held Monday afternoon at one o'clock at the late residence. Burial will take place in the Richland cemetery.

With The Churches

+Preaching services at the Glenwood United Presbyterian church every Sabbath at 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. A. W. Jamieson. D. D. Sabbath school at 1:15 p. m.

+Services will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church in New Salem every other Sunday afternoon.

+Regular services at St. Mary's Catholic church, conducted by the Rev. M. W. Lyons. Masses at 8:00 and 10:00 a. m. Sunday school, 2:30 p. m. and Vespers at 3:00 p. m.

+First Church of Christ Scientist, holds regular services at 405 North Harrison street. Sunday school at ten o'clock. Services at 10:45 Wednesday evening meeting at 7:45.

+There will be preaching every Sunday at the Glenwood M. E. church. Morning service at 10:30 o'clock, evening services at 7 o'clock and Sunday school at 9:30 o'clock.

+Regular services are held regularly as follows by the Salvation Army: Sunday, 9:30 open air meeting; ten to eleven, Holiness meeting; 2:30, Sunday school; 6:15, young peoples' meeting; 7:30, Christian's praise meeting; Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., open air meeting; Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., Salvation meeting; Thursday at 7 p. m., Bible study; Saturday, 7:30 p. m., open air meeting. All are welcome. Capt. J. F. A. Mitchell is in charge.

+Preaching services will be held at Sexton every second and fourth Sunday of each month. Services are held at 10:30 in the morning and at 7:30 in the evening. The Rev. Mr. Benson is the pastor.

+Services will be held as follows at the Ben Davis Christian church Sunday: Preaching by the pastor, the Rev. M. V. Griscom, at 10:45 a. m., on the subject, "Learning to Pray," and in the evening at seven on the subject, "A New Year's Resolve." There will be regular preaching service each first and third Sunday.

+At St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, A. D. Batchelor, the pastor, will preach two sermons appropriate for the New Year, morning subject, "A Right Beginning," evening subject, "Numbering Our Days." There will be a meeting of the official board at the church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The meeting is called for Sunday instead of Tuesday on account of the union meetings Tuesday night. The special committee on "every-member canvass" is ready to report. The meeting is important. The presence of every member of the board is urged. There will be no prayer meeting Thursday night on account of union services in observance of the Week of Prayer.

+Regular services will be held Sunday at the Main Street Christian church. The Rev. C. M. Yocom, the pastor, will preach at both the morning and evening service. The subject of the morning sermon will be "Child-like Discipleship." The evening subject is not announced. Special music has been arranged for both services at the usual hours.

+At 10:30 a. m., Sunday, the pastor of the First Baptist church will take for his subject, "God's Test of Man's Sincerity." At 7 p. m., his subject will be "Not in a Corner." Bible school at 9:15 a. m.

+Earning Wages vs. Receiving Gifts will be the topic of the morning sermon at the United Presbyterian church. "Forgetting the Past; Reaching out for the Future" will be the subject of the evening sermon. Other services will be held as usual.

STILL HAS HOPE.

(By United Press.) New Albany, Ind., Jan. 2.—Despite the mild winter up to date, Herman Rave, naturalist of this city, predicts that the winter will be a severe one. He based his belief on nature's signs. No migratory birds remain, he pointed out. The home of the muskrat is high and heavy and the corn husk is thick.

THE RUSHVILLE NATIONAL BANK

is just beginning on its 50th YEAR of strong, successful and progressive management and operation as a National Bank. Previous to that it was conducted for about EIGHT YEARS as a branch of the "Bank of the State of Indiana."

We will subscribe to the Capital Stock of the new "Federal Reserve Bank" of the district as soon as the proper legal blanks can be obtained.

Under the New Banking and Currency Law each individual bank must stand on its own merits, as before. If you are not established with us, we invite your careful consideration.

Rushville National Bank

Northeast Corner Main and Second Streets.

Hargrove & Mullin Drugs

"The Store for Particular People."

If your skin becomes rough dry or chapped from exposure to inclement weather or from any other cause, you will be greatly pleased to see how one application of

RAYMOND CHAP

Will heal, soften and beautify. This preparation is nicely perfumed, quickly absorbed, healing and soothing, imparting a texture of velvety smoothness and fresh appearance of perfect health.

3 ounce bottle 15c

7 ounce bottle 25c

Christmas is Over

Now is the time to have your clothes cleaned, altered and pressed. Also corsets and white gloves. We clean rugs and make them look as good as new.

20th Century Cleaners and Pressers

Phone 1154. Rear of Old Rushville National Bank Bldg.

THE HOME Of Quality Groceries

We Wish You a Prosperous and Happy New Year

Start it Right!

Place Your First Grocery Order for 1914 With the Home of Quality Groceries And Stick to all Your Good Resolutions!

FRED COCHRAN, Grocer

Women Driving Automobiles

should always be sure their machines are in first-class condition. For there is no getting down under the sun for them if things go wrong on the road. The only safe way is to have us overhaul it regularly. Even if there should be nothing needing repairs, you'll feel more confident after we have examined it.

William E. Bowen
Phone 1364

Smoke FAIR PROMISE 5c Cigars

NEW YEAR BANKING PLANS

If you contemplate opening a new account or changing your banking relations at the beginning of the New Year, the officers of this bank will be pleased to confer with you regarding the facilities it affords.

Whether accounts are large or of moderate volume, every depositor in this bank receives a service suited to his individual needs. Prompt and courteous attention is a feature of our service.

The Rush County National Bank

Rushville, Indiana

L. LINK, President W. E. HAVENS, Vice-Pres.
L. M. SEXTON, Cashier B. L. TRABUE, Asst.Cash

NEW POSTOFFICE BUILDING IS READY TO OPEN TODAY

Washington People Now Get Their Mail From First Floor of Federal Postoffice Structure.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 2.—The National Capital's new postoffice building was formally declared completed today and preparations made for moving the city staff from the building of the Postoffice Department, to the new structure. It is located next to the big Union Station and forms one of a group of buildings in the scheme for beautification of Washington, being a big granite structure fronting on Union Station Plaza.

The Washington postoffice has here tofore occupied all of the first floor of the Federal Postoffice Department building, and the removal will grant the Department much needed room.

IS EQUIPPED TO STUDY MAGNETISM

Carnegie's New Building at Washington is One of Most Unusual Structures in World.

VERY LITTLE STEEL IS USED

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 2.—The Carnegie Institute's new building equipped for the study of terrestrial magnetism was made ready for occupancy today. It is a structure absolutely unique in buildings. The smallest possible amount of steel conducive to safety was used in the construction, as steel would affect the delicate magnetic instruments to be housed in the structure. Moreover, the specifications called for as near a vibrationless building as possible and the contractors sought to accomplish this by a construction unusual in buildings. Cross walls of the building have been literally hung from concrete girders and the piers of the foundation work have been packed in sand.

It will be as least six weeks before all the delicate instruments used by the institution can be installed and made ready for use.

Japanese are rapidly supplanting the Italians in the Argentina. There are now 11,900 Orientals in that republic and they are taking the place of Italian laborers on the railroads.

English society has been astonished to learn that Julia, Lady Lyveden, is about to enter the convent of the "Poor Clares" at Edinburgh, one of the strictest conventual orders in the world.

Indiana ranks second among the states in the purchase of United States bonds of the issue of Jan. 1, 1914, for depositors in the postal savings system. Its amount aggregates $82,520. Ohio leads the states with $201,840.

Write your name with love, mercy and kindness on the hearts of those about you, and you will never be forgotten.

Society News

There will be a dinner dance at the Social club next Tuesday evening.

* * *

The Tri Kappas will meet this evening with Miss Zelma Cox at her home in Perkins street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson of near Falmouth will entertain the Jolly Sixteen club tonight at their home.

* * *

Cards announcing that Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bristor are at home at 2342 North Pennsylvania street, Indianapolis, since yesterday, have been received by friends here. Mrs. Bristor is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Wooden.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Bussel entertained at New Years dinner at their beautiful country home, west of this city yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. George Looney, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Clem Heaston and son William, Alfred Looney, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Looney, Mrs. Margaret Bussel and Mr. and Mrs. John Heizer and daughters, Mary, Nellie, and Lizzie, of Indianapolis.

* * *

The members of the "Jolly Twelve" entertained with an open meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cowing in First street, on New Years eve. The program prepared for the evening exhibited hidden talents possessed by the members, of which the husbands and out-of-town guests were immeasurably proud. A three-course dinner was served near midnight and after listening to the bells of the city herald the year 1914, the guests sought their homes with happy hearts and wishes to be numbered among "those present" next time.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William Dagler celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary yesterday at their home. All the children and grandchildren, the Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Yocom and son, Mr. and Mrs. James Miller and Miss Nelle Frame were present. The children are: John Dagler, and family, Charles Dagler, and family and Mrs. Stella Walker of Richmond, and Clayton and Fred Dagler of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Dagler were married in Noble township. Mr. Dagler recalled that snow fell heavily the day of their wedding, that the heavens cleared that night and that he and his bride rode to Andersonville to church in a sleigh although it was 10 degrees below zero.

* * *

Berle Hinckman of Fairview, assisted by his sister Miss Mary was host to a number of friends last Sunday among them three members of his Fraternity the Alpha Gamma Rho of Purdue University; Harry Caldwell of Harrisburg, Nelson Lafuze of Liberty and Russel Baker of Falmouth.

It was also the occasion of their annual birthday celebration, Mr. Baker and Mr. Lafuze having reached their majority and Mr. Hinckman being one year their junior. Other guests were Glen Smelser of Muncie Normal College, Miss Ruth Hemenway of Liberty, Miss Mary Caldwell of Harrisburg, Miss Naomi Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Will Baker of Falmouth. A dinner for which the long drive had given the guests a relish was served at noon.

News Films of the Passing Show

Lamps on baby carriages are required in an ordinance introduced in Cincinnati.

E. L. Townsend of Readsfield, Me. recently sold for $21 net profit six turkeys which were hatched July 1.

Mrs. January Hart of Allington, Conn., breaking all records, presented her husband with two pairs of twins in one year. Birthdays, Jan. 23, Dec. 28.

Acting as professional dance escorts is the latest innovation offered needy Harvard men to earn money. There lately has been a dearth of youths at society's dancing functions.

Rudolph Hoffman, suing Dr. Gustave A. Rueck of 1070 Tiffany street, New York, alleged that the physician cut off his toe while treating him for a corn so Rueck could not interfere with Dr. Rueck's alienation of Mrs. Hoffman's affections. Hoffman demanded $10,000.

CORRECTS SCIENCE'S ERRORS.

Carnegie Institution Yacht Back From Three Years' World Cruise.

After a three and a half year cruise about the world, during which she traveled 93,000 miles, the nonmagnetic yacht Carnegie of the Carnegie Institution in Washington recently returned to New York.

During every day of her trip, through frigid and torrid zones, scientists took magnetic observations and brought back records of important errors, particularly in the charts showing the compass variations over the Indian ocean.

The correction of these errors will prove of great importance to navigators.

EXPLORING NOW A MANIA.

Peers Among the 4,800 Who Wish to Accompany British Expedition.

J. Foster Stackhouse, leader of the British expedition which plans to start for the antarctic in 1914, has received 4,800 offers of services from men eager to join the expedition.

Among the applicants are sixteen peers. One of the latter said in his letter that he is willing to act as assistant to the cook if there is nothing better for him to do.

Trustee's Sale of Real Estate.

We hereby give notice that we will receive bids up to Feb. 10, 1914, for the purchase of the real estate lately owned by A. P. Walker, consisting of,

1st. 120 acres 3 1/2 miles west of Rushville, Indiana. This is a fine, well arranged and fenced farm with two fairly good houses large stock barn, large hog house, and running spring water the year round. Possession March 1st, 1914, subject to rights of tenant up to Sept. 1st, 1914.

2d. 30 acres 2 miles west of Rushville, Indiana on a fine gravel road, fine improvements consisting of a new residence equipped with electric lighting plant and water and sewage system, good farm barn, large garage and large stock barn suitable for stock breeding or dairy purposes and other out-buildings and good gas well, also a good tenement house. One of the finest and best equipped homes in Rush county. Possession March 1st, 1914.

Bids must be accompanied with certified check or bank draft for $500. The checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned. That of the successful bidder will be credited on the purchase price and forfeited in the event that he does not pay the balance of the purchase price within ten days after the opening of the bids.

We reserve the right to reject any and all bids and bids will be received on both tracts or on each tract separately.

J. M. AMOS,

A. B. IRVIN,

Dec. 26 EOD 3w. Trustees.

Best by Test, Fair Promise 5c Cigar

6%

4%

Our 1914 Almanacs are now on hand. A copy is yours for the asking.

Farmers Trust Co.

3%

2%

CASH

Make this one of your New Resolutions for 1914—Pay Cash for your Groceries and see what it Saves you

Beans a pound	5c
Nice Large Bananas a dozen	15c
Potatoes a peck	25c
6 Pint Cans Milk	25c
25 lbs. H. & E. Sugar	$1.20
Quaker Oats, 9c or 3 for	25c

Highest Cash price paid for country produce

The Store Where You Buy For Less

THE ONEAL GROCERY CO.

Phone 1326

628 N. Sexton St.

Fire and Tornado Insurance

ABSTRACTS OF TITLE

FIDELITY and SURETY BONDS

BURGLARY INSURANCE

GEORGE W. OSBORNE

305 Main St.

Telephone 1336

For Sale at Once

80 acre farm in Union township, 2 1/2 miles southeast from Ging Station, 2 miles from traction line. Good grain farm—more than half black loam. Price reasonable.

Lewis E. Ging or A. L. Gary

Phone 1594

Rushville, Indiana.

The Penslar Drug Store

What This Sign Really Means.

That this is an up-to-date Drug Store where a complete line of the Penslar Household Remedies are to be found always pure and fresh—Absolutely Guaranteed. If you buy an article from this line and are not entirely satisfied bring it back and your money will be refunded just as cheerfully as it is taken. We want your business. That is why we always have the best of everything for our customers. Make yourself a Customer of the Penslar Drug Store and you will always get the best at the lowest possible price.

Our telephone number is 1408, and our Free Delivery service is up to the minute. Wire your next order and see how quickly it will be delivered.

Watch This Space

No. 2 of the Penslar Kids Contest will start next week.

F. B. Johnson & Company

Drugs, Wall Paper, Paints and Window Shades. Fine Picture Framing a Specialty.

The Daily Republican

The "Old Reliable" Republican News-paper of Rush County.

Published Daily except Sunday by THE REPUBLICAN COMPANY. Office: Northwest Corner of Second and Perkins Streets. RUSHVILLE, INDIANA.

Entered at the Rushville, Ind., Post-office as Second-class Matter.

TELEPHONE NUMBER, 1111.

Friday, January 2, 1914.

Editoriallettes

Some fellows, sad to relate, are still carrying their Christmas packages around with them because they don't seem to realize when a holiday ends.

Heavings, This is Strange.

Books on physical culture say that a perfect woman's waist should measure twenty-nine inches and the length of a perfect man's arm is twenty-nine inches or maybe a fraction over for convenience sake.

Death Comes to William M. Newbold After Long Illness—Well Known Retired Farmer.

NEW THING IN DIVORCES

Kokomo Man Alleges Wife Has Chronic Hysteria.

(By United Press.)

Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 2.—The latest thing in divorces here is the complaint of Erastas Bottorff that his wife Laura has chronic hysteria. He recites that she imagines she is sick constantly of some dreadful malady, although physicians have repeatedly told her she was sound and well. Obsessed as she is with this hallucination, Bottorff alleged that it is impossible to live with his wife and that once he and their daughter were forced to leave her.

AGED MAN DIES AT HIS HOME HERE

Death Comes to William M. Newbold After Long Illness—Well Known Retired Farmer.

WIDOW AND SON SURVIVE

William M. Newbold, 73 years old, a well known resident of this city, died yesterday afternoon shortly before four o'clock at his home in West Tenth street. Mr. Newbold had been ill for over a year and for the past three weeks had been in a serious condition. Death was due to earcoma of the bowels and was expected by the family.

Mr. Newbold had lived in this city for the past five years, coming here from a farm near Milroy. He was a successful stock raiser and farmer and was the first to introduce the breeding of draft horses into this county. Mr. Newbold was the son of Robert H. and Eliza Newbold, pioneer residents of Rush county and was born August 7, 1840.

Mr. Newbold is survived by his widow and one son, Will Newbold, one of the owners of the Jacksonian. He is also survived by three grandchildren and four brothers, George W. Newbold of Anderson, Alpheus N. Newbold and Joseph T. Newbold of Oklahoma, and a half sister, Mrs. Mary Worsham of Fayette county.

The funeral services will be conducted at the late residence 322 West Tenth street Saturday morning at ten o'clock by the Rev. Silas Huntington. Burial will take place in the Layton cemetery, near the Rush-Deeatur county line.

LUMBER DEALERS TO MEET

"Boy Problem" Will Receive Attention at Convention.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 2.—The "Boy Problem" will receive considerable attention at the annual convention of the Retail Lumber Dealers' Association of Indiana, here January 20 and 21. "How a Boy Can Help His Father Running a Yard" and "The Retail Lumber Business as Seen by a Boy" are two of the many related topics that will be discussed. Sons who come to the convention will be well entertained by a special committee.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 2—Smallpox is epidemic in this city today and the health office is at a loss to discover the cause. Nearly one hundred cases of smallpox were reported in December. Vaccination is being urged on school children and all classes.

LID ON AT DANVILLE.

(By United Press.)

Danville, Ind., Jan. 2.—Prosecutor J. P. Snodgrass has closed up the "red light" district in Danville and caused the inmates to leave town. He has also declared war on gambling of all kinds, including slot machines and cigar-stand "punch boards."

Oh, yes sir! We do auto livery day or night. E. W. Caldwell. Residence phone 1489 or Bowen's garage, 1364. 103E.O.Dt.

PEOPLE CHEER THE DESPOT ON

Villa, Benevolent Ruler of Largest Mexican State, Governs With Sheer Force of Arms.

HE IS A FORMER DESPERADO

With Drawn Revolver, he is Operating First Successful Socialistic Government in America.

Chihuahua, Jan. 2.—A peculiar political situation in this, the capital city of the largest of Mexican states, is socialism under a despot. Practically everything is being operated in the name of the rebel state government, and Pancho Villa, dictator of northern Mexico, is directing operations.

The streetcar system, the stores, the electric light plant, the brewery, a clothing factory and the railroad between Chihuahua and Juarez—even the gambling houses—are all being operated by the rebel government and all of them are yielding a profit. Villa does not risk his reputation as a sagacious man by predicting the outcome of his venture. He has the sense to realize that he dominates the situation now; and that by his sheer strength he is able to control.

The man who would steal or graft from any one of the enterprises now operating under a rebel supervision, knows that he would pay the penalty with his life. Villa's word is the only law that the city knows. The power of Villa, his sudden rise to such heights, is a puzzle even to those who have known him for years. Six months ago he was a refugee in El Paso, whether he had fled from Mexico City when he was released from prison.

Prior to the revolution of Madero, Villa was known as a bandit, "the terror of the mountains," and a price was on his head. Villa, "the bandit," shoots his men for looting or stealing, but Villa "the chief" confiscates whole estates, factories, railroad systems and operates them as nonchalantly as he used to hold up and rob an ore train in the mountains. Villa says he is fighting to restore constitutional government to avenge the death of Madero, but his soldiers shout "Vive Villa." There are no "vivas" for Madero, few for "the constitution," none for Carranza, whom Villa alludes to as his "chief."

When Villa took over the city of Chihuahua and found that the different enterprises had closed down and that the families of the city were suffering for want of food, he did not hesitate a moment. Most of these enterprises were owned either by Spaniards or rich Mexicans who had opposed him in the revolution. He issued an edict immediately, forfeiting them all to "the people," and followed it with another ordering them to resume in the name of "the constitutional government." Officers of the army were placed in charge of the different institutions by Villa with instructions to sell the output and give him the money after paying for labor and material. Every night rolls of bills, some small, some large, are turned over to the rebel chief by his lieutenants—receipts from the concerns operating under the rebel government.

Villa puts the bills in a big safe, without counting them, and when he buys powder, shells, flour, khaki uniforms or gives money to his men, he takes what he needs from the big safe.

This is the only bookkeeping system that Villa has, but his men are pleased; their women and children are living better than for many months.

The Falomir bank in Chihuahua has been forfeited to the Constitutional cause. Villa got the building and vaults; nothing more, as all the money had been removed to the United States, and he is going to open a state bank. This will be the first time Villa ever opened a bank in this manner. He admits having "opened several" in his lifetime, but he always used a crowbar. This time he is going to use statesmanship and open a bank that will give stability to his government. He has declared forfeited enough gold and silver mines in Chihuahua to supply him with all the metal he needs. All he wants is a coining outfit. When he gets that he will coin the gold and silver on the same basis as the Mexican dollar is coined today and stack it up in the bank vaults.

Once when he was in the mountains a refugee from justice, a police chief in Chihuahua boasted that he would arrest Villa in a month. Villa sent word, "I will kill you in a week."

In less time Villa rode into the city of Chihuahua, met the chief on a business street, shot him dead and rode out again to his band in the mountains. That is the way Villa keeps his word. His friends say that is what enables him to gather together and control an army of 100,000 men. Villa is not boastful. He accepts the obedience of his men as natural. He takes plenty of sleep, eats well and has never been seen to drink.

"I am a bandit, but I never stop up after bedtime to gamble, and I let wine and women alone."

Best by Test, Fair Promise 5c Cigar

News Films of the Passing Show

A Brooklyn (N. Y.) rector has started a church dancing class to offset the tango lure.

"Make your fists behave," said Judge Wallace to John Thompson, fifteen, of Freeport, N. Y., who whipped every boy in school.

Firing at ducks, Joseph Windmuller of Yonkers, N. Y., struck the barrel of Thomas Sidney's gun and cut it off twenty inches from the end.

A wagon with 150 pounds of dynamite was struck by a train near Westfield, N. J. The dynamite didn't explode, although the driver got the scare of his life.

"She made me cook my meals," avers John Foley of Yonkers, N. Y. "Once he tied a towel on my mouth to stop my talking," answers Mrs. Foley. Alimony ordered.

A barbed wire fence along the Mexican border as a check upon the incursions of rebels and federales from Mexican soil was proposed in a bill introduced in the senate by Senator Ashurst of Arizona.

They are as follows:

When you're a boy be one of the "fellers." When that we mean normal.

When grown to manhood still be a boy. Get married.

Eat what you want, drink what you want, but all in moderation. Be moderate in all things.

Don't get excited or worry.

Smile when you retire, smile in your sleep, smile when you awake, smile when things go wrong and keep on smiling.

N. T. Hemingway, seventy-six years, is president of the club.

"Our meetings are the pleasantest ever held by any organization," said Secretary Emeritus Webb. "The hearts of these men have been softened with the advance of years. Their vision has grown broader through fellowship with one another."

The borrowers of "time" are enlisted from the ranks of all vocations. Physicians, lawyers and ministers are on the roster.

At the recent meeting Father Dennis O'Keefe, aged eighty-three, sang an Irish ballad that he sang on the banks of the river Shannon as a boy. Captain Charles Judd sang a war song and Mr. Hemingway also rendered a vocal selection.

TELLS OF DANGER IN PORK.

Department of Agriculture Gives Two Rules For Safe Eating.

A warning against pork is given by the United States department of agriculture, which advises against eating raw and uncooked pork, so as to avoid contracting trichinosis. The risk of contracting the disease is greater at this time of the year, a department bulletin says, in some sections of the country on account of the large consumption of pork products. The danger is most insidious in such foods as raw ham and smoked sausages.

The department lays down two rules under which pork may be safely eaten: Refrain from eating pork in the raw state and thoroughly cook all pork that is eaten.

Pork, according to the department, should be cooked in boiling water for a period of as many times eighteen minutes as there are pounds in the piece of meat cooked.

CHURCH HAS A BARBER.

Shop Is Installed For the Benefit of Its Choir Boys.

A special barber is the latest innovation in church life. St. George's Episcopal church, New York, which J. Pierpont Morgan endowed with $500,000, has installed a barber shop for the choir. The Rev. Karl Reiland, the rector, in announcing the new feature said:

"For the sake of uniformity in the appearance of our choir boys Sundays and as a slight evidence of parochial appreciation we have assigned a special barber to the boys Saturday mornings and Sundays before service."

AMBITION KILLS TURKEY.

Buster, the champion heavyweight turkey of Crawford county, O., had attained the dignified weight of eighty pounds, and his owner, Charles Annillier, decided he should weigh ninety pounds.

Buster co-operated and ate early and late. Just as he was putting on the final touches he dropped dead as he was being placed on the scales. Fatty degeneration of the heart had killed him.

MERRELL-SOULE

NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT

"LIKE MOTHER USED TO MAKE"

is sold in a carton package—not a can or a jar. It's clean, pure, rich, spicy. It's economical, convenient and above all, mighty good to eat. Get the habit. Serve a

None Such Pie

From your grocer

MERRELL-SOULE CO. Syracuse, N. Y. Makers of Food Products since 1868

Did You Lose $6.00?

You say you did not. Perhaps you did and did not know it. If you have $200.00 and it is drawing only 3% you lose $6.00 each year. The same proportion holds good on any other amount, because we pay 6% on all Savings Accounts. Absolute safety for your money is guaranteed by supervision of the AUDITOR OF STATE. Better see us for full particulars.

NOW IS THE TIME TO OPEN YOUR ACCOUNT

Building Association No. 10

Our January Clearance Sale

Means great savings of money to you who can use any of the goods mentioned below:

Silks, Wool Goods, White Goods, Embroidery, Laces, Men's Gloves, and Children's Cloaks.

1 lot $3.00 Corsets go at $1.98

1 lot $2.00 Corsets go at $1.39

1 lot $1.00 Corsets go at 69c

We have put prices on all the above goods that will interest those wishing to save. Come and supply all your needs. On above goods we will give 10 votes for our fine Piano on every cent you spend. Help your favorite girl win this instrument.

Hogsett's Store

PUBLIC SALE

We will sell at Public Sale on the Freeman Elstun Farm, one mile east of Milroy, and eight miles south of Rushville, at Hill's Cross Roads, on

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1914, at 10:00 a. m., prompt, the following property, consisting of

5 HEAD OF HORSES

One Gray Mare, 12 years old, weight 1400 pounds; one Black Mare, 12 years old, weight 1100 pounds; one aged Black Horse, weight 1500 pounds; one Black Filly, 2 years old, a good one; one Weanling Colt.

4 HEAD OF CATTLE

One Jersey Cow, a first class one; one Red Shorthorn Cow, 4 years old, giving four gallons of milk a day; one yearling Jersey Heifer, a fine one, bred; one Red Polled Steer, extra good one.

61 HEAD OF HOGS

Eight head two-year-old Chester White Sows, all bred and safe in pigs; one Sow with eight Pigs at side; seventeen head of Gilts, all bred, weighing 200 pounds, extra fine lot; thirty-three head of fall Shoats; one Chester White Male Hog, two years old; one Chester White Male Hog, ten months old. The above Hogs are all thoroughbred Chester Whites.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS, ETC.

Five tons of Clover Hay; 1500 bushels of extra good Corn; 1 McCormick Binder, new; 1 Johnson Mower; 2 Breaking Plows; 2 Riding Cultivators; 1 Corn Planter; 1 Steel Roller; 1 Spring-Tooth Harrow; 1 Disc Harrow; 1 Five-Hoof Wheat Drill; 1 Galvanized Wheat Drill; 1 Galvanized Milk Trough, 12 feet long; 1 Corn Sheller; 1 Farm Wagon; 1 Buggy; 1 Set Buggy Harness; 3 Sets Work Harness; 1 45-gallon Feed Cooker; 1 Hay Ladder; Household goods and Kitchen Utensils and other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS OF SALE

A credit until September 1st, 1914, will be given on all sums over Ten Dollars the purchaser giving bankable note. All sums of Ten Dollars and under Cash on day of sale. A discount of 4 cents on the dollar for cash. We will receive sealed bids on the Freeman Elstun Farm of 141 acres up until the day of sale and reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

Good lunch served on day of sale by George Priest

R. S. DAVIS and J. F. MILLER, Agents.

C. O. TRIBBETT, Auctioneer.

RUE WEBB, Clerk.

BASKET BALL

7:30 pm NEW SALEM, Saturday Night
New Salem Independents vs. Geneva

Amusements

The Gem offers a three reel 101 Bison tonight entitled "The She Wolf." It is a thrilling picture full of dramatic situations and is said to be true to life. The three reel production is offered as a great feature.

The Princess will show the two-reel Vitagraph drama "The Next Generation" for tonight. Edith Storey, Harry Morey, Rose Tapey and Leo Delaney are featured. It is a story of how the pupil outmasters his master. The story is woven around a great ship-designer and his nephew Carl, who is taken into his office that he may learn the trade. A great ship is completed and Carl discovers a flaw, but the directors of the company but pay little attention to his warning. The ship is put to sea and in the course of events the flaw shows up and the ship and all the passengers are lost. The shipwreck is a thriller and is said to be one of the best pieces shown in moving pictures. Charles Carlton, will sing again tonight. He received quite a welcome last night with his character songs.

The Portola will show a Lubin drama "The Man in the Hamper" for the first picture tonight. Peggy O'Neil and John Ince are featured. The second is a Selig drama "Life for Life." The last is a beautiful Pathé drama entitled "The Poisoned Stream." Next Wednesday and Thursday "A Princess of Bagdad" featuring Helen Gardner will be shown. "A Princess of Bagdad" is an Arabian Nights story in eight reels and is one of the most magnificent films ever produced. The acting is said to be superb, the settings gorgeous and the costuming magnificent. Miss Gardner, who takes the leading part, is one of the well known motion picture stars and has in her support a spendid company.

Oliver Morosco will present at the Murat Theatre, Indianapolis, Ind., week commencing Jan. 5th, his production of J. Hartley Manners' overwhelmingly successful comedy "Peg O' My Heart," which has broken all the dramatic records of a decade in

New York City, with Laurette Taylor's creation of Peg which is at present running into its second uninterrupted season at the New York's Cort Theatre.

"Peg O' My Heart" opened the New Cort Theatre, the most beautiful play house in America, last season, and instantly the little white marble palace became the local point of audience attention for the entire city. "Peg O' My Heart" rapidly crept up in public favor, until it was neck to neck with that supreme sensation "Within The Law," and at last, in the early summer, actually passed that piece in point of monetary figures, a lead which it afterward steadily maintained.

The extraordinary success of "Peg O' My Heart" is unquestionably accounted for by its humanity and wholesomeness—two elements which in these days of bizarre mechanical plots and tawdry sexuality are put so far in the background as to be almost mythological.

Peg, the little Irish-American girl, is as witty as a character of Thackeray's pen; she is as philosophical as a Balzac genuine file who has the quaint pathos of a Dickens' person—a being from a world of hard facts, certain sorrows and evanescent joys, with a touch of melancholy sobering the brightness of her laughter, and with smiles that tremble for the small irresponsible tears behind them.

"Peg O' My Heart" proved conclusively that New York can still laugh heartily and sincerely at humor which is not coarse, and that simple story, directly and simply told, is more potent than any plot fantastic, complex, or merely outer.

The following well known players are in the cast; Elsa Ryan, in the title roll; Lillian Keller, Fanny Addison Pitt, Wilda Mari Moore, Henry Stanford, Lewis Broughton, Gilbert Douglas, Frank Barbeck and Gordon Burby.

MAKES POWERFUL PLEA FOR PEACE

Rev. Jenkins James Says Burden of Education is to Teach Men to Love all Men.

MUST PUT STOP TO KILLING

By United Press.
Indianapolis, Jan. 2—"The burden of education is to teach men to love all men," said Rev. Jenkins Lloyd James of Chicago during a powerful plea for peace delivered before the teachers convention here.

The one great word that children must learn to know is internationalism. The other great word is disarmament. We have got to stop this killing some time. It is up to you school teachers to inoculate this reverence for those about us and to wipe out that dislike which George Eliot says is the virtue of narrow minds.

Many men of high culture still know no better way to rest their brains than to go off to the woods looking for something to kill."

TRYING TO RAISE $50,000.

By United Press.
Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 2.—A spirited campaign is under way today to raise $50,000 for the city's newest hospital, The Good Samaritan. The committee has set January 7 as the limit for the campaign and progress up to date indicates that the campaign will attain its object.

Ottis Miller has filed suit against Charles Andrews, for possession of real estate and damages, demanding $50.

"Everybody's Doin' It"

Smokers, smokers, can't you tell
Cigars, cigars by their smell?
Don't the milder kind
Taste sweet and fine,
Like a big piece of pie—my
Man, man, man, man, it's no joke,
Just, just, just, just one fine
smoke
Can't you smell that aroma
sweet in the air
Come on boys let's be fair.

Chorus
Everybody's smoking it, smoking it,
Everybody's smoking it, smoking it,
See those sports a smoking over there
Watch 'em blow those smokings in the air
Puff those cigars—Gollie, I declare
It's a bear, it's a bear, it's a bear—there.
Everybody's doin' it, doin' it,
doin' it,
Everybody knows it, knows it,
knows it
That "Prince Albert's" touchin'
your heart,
I and "Prince Albert" never will part.
Come, come, come, come, now's
time to start
Everybody's smokin' it now.

Note—Box of Prince Albert cigars given to first person sending author's name of above series of poems to M. Conner.

GENEVIEVE CLARK

Speaker's Daughter Makes Her Debut in Washington Society.

© 1912 by American Press Association.

Washington, Jan. 2.—The formal presentation of Miss Genevieve Clark, only daughter of the speaker of the house of representatives and Mrs. Clark, took place with the New Year's reception held at the home of her parents.

PELKEY WAS KNOCKED OUT

Gunboat Smith Now Carries Heavy-weight Championship Honors.

San Francisco, Jan. 2.—Gunboat Smith is America's best heavyweight. With a powerful right cross to the jaw—one out of fifty he attempted to land—he knocked Arthur Pelkey down in the fifteenth round of their championship fight at Daly City yesterday afternoon, and when the dazed man unsteadily arose a rushing left to the back of the head toppled him over again. This time Pelkey was stretched full length on the canvas. He rolled over as his fate was being tolled, finally resting with one knee on the canvas when Referee Griffin counted him out. The referee would have awarded the fight to Smith, anyway, for Pelkey was in no condition to proceed. He was dazed as well as helpless when helped to his corner.

BOGUS CHECKS TURNING UP

Someone Taking Liberties With South Bend Lawyer's Name.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 2.—Taking advantage of Charles Weidler's absence from the city, someone has been having a merry time financing himself by passing bogus checks bearing a poor imitation of Weidler's signature. Two checks were returned by Weidler's law office, each for $16, payable to Simon Barker at the Merchants' National bank. Weidler appears to be the maker, but the signature is not genuine. Two or three other checks have been discovered. Simon Barker is unknown here.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of United States weather bureaus taken at 8 p.m. yesterday follow:

Temp.	Weather.
New York....	28
Boston.....	16
Denver.....	38
San Francisco	52
St. Paul.....	22
Chicago.....	30
Indianapolis	28
St. Louis.....	34
New Orleans...	50
Washington...	30

Local snows, colder.

EGGS USED AS MONEY.

Eggs are becoming so scarce in the mountainous sections of Arkansas that they are being used as a medium of exchange. Not only are they acceptable for payment at grocery stores and mercantile establishments, but at motion picture theaters. One egg admits a minor and two one adult.

NOTICE

Beginning January 1st, 1914, and continuing until March 15th, my store will close at 6 p.m., each evening except Saturday.

FRANK WILSON.

250t3.

Smoke FAIR PROMISE 5c Cigars

Pure Bred Stock and Farm Sales Real Estate and Merchandise

Call or Write For Dates

Clarence G. Carr
Auctioneer

GLENWOOD, IND.

PRINCESS

Extra — Mr. Carlton sings "The Green Grass Grew All Around"

EDITH STORY, HARRY MOREY and LEO DELANEY in

"THE NEXT GENERATION"

Vitagraph Drama in Two Parts

The pupil outmasters his master. The boy of today is the man of tomorrow. The succeeding generations must keep apace with the march of progress and advancement.—A swell picture with thrilling dramatic situations.

TOMORROW — Song, "Anybody Here Seen Rover"
Picture — "The Madonna of the Storm" — Biograph

GEM THEATER

101 Bison 3 Reel Feature—A Thriller

The She Wolf

Grace, a She Wolf, a wrecker of men's hearts and reputations, tires of the bright lights and marries a miner. She wearyes of the monotony and when her husband, Ford, is injured by a premature explosion and is blinded, she bears the burden with ill concealed impatience. Ford eventually recovers the sight of one eye and swears to revenge himself upon the She Wolf who deserted him.

TOMORROW

Big Hearted Jim

American Eclair two Part Feature. JULIA STUART and ALEC FRANCIS are featured.

MATINEE at 2:30 O'clock.

PORTOLA THEATRE

Helen Gardner in "Princess of Bagdad" — 8 Reels — Jan. 7 and 8

PEGGY O'NEIL and JOHN INCE in Lubin Drama

The Man in the Hamper

Swell Selig Drama

Life for Life

Pathé's Beautiful Drama — Colored Photography

The Poisoned Stream

TOMORROW

ROMAINE FIELDING in Lubin Drama—2 Parts

"THE EVIL EYE"

BASKET BALL

Richmond vs Rushville
High School 7:30 pm High School

SATURDAY

MI-O-NA QUICKLY ENDS INDIGESTION

Do not continue to suffer with heartburn, dizziness, after dinner distress, headache, biliousness, pain in the bowels or sour and gassy stomach. Get relief at once—buy today—a fifty cent box of Mi-o-na Tablets. They quickly and surely end indigestion and stomach distress—are perfectly harmless.

There is no long waiting for results no need to deprive yourself of the food you like best but fear to take because of stomach distress. Eat what you want at any time and take Mi-o-na Tablets.

Do not suffer stomach distress another hour. It is not only needless but may be dangerous—many serious diseases have their origin in the stomach and bowels.

Begin using Mi-o-na—now—at once. Money back if not satisfied. F. B. Johnson & Co. Druggists, Rushville, Ind.

(Advertisement.)

Young Man or Woman Wanted.

To learn to operate Linotype machine at this office, splendid opportunity to learn good trade without charge and at same time earn something. Work more pleasant than factory work and more lucrative when a finished operator. Can learn in short time. Apply in person. Good chance for right person to better their earning capacity.

Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, delicious light cakes for breakfast, all grocers.

6% Dividends on Savings
Building Association No. 10
Open Saturday from 6 to 8 p.m.
Office at Farmers Trust Co.

Reduced Prices

on

Nat'l Fosteria Mazda Lamps,
Electric Motors, Vacuum
Cleaners, Curling Irons, Combs,
Bed-warmers, Toasters, Percolaters, Stoves, Heating Pads,
American Beauty and Acme
Electric Irons.

See

Mahin Electric Co.

Next door to I. & C. Traction
Station.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. We the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCIAL
Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT.

KRYPTOK
GLASSES FURNISHED
DR. F. G. HACKLEMAN

DR. J. B. KINSINGER

Osteopathic Physician

Office in Kramer Building, Rushville, Ind. Outside calls answered and treatment given in the home.

Office hours—8:30 to 11:30 a.m.
1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Phones—Office, 1578; residence 1231.

Consultation at office free.

THE Ne'er-Do-Well

By
REX BEACH

Author of

"The Spoilers," "The Barrier,"
"The Silver Horde," Etc.

Copyright, 1910, 1911, by Harper & Brothers.

CHAPTER X.

A Night at Taboga.

DESPITE his great contentment in Mrs. Cortlandt's society, Kirk found himself waiting with growing impatience for his active duties to begin. Curiously enough, this feeling was somehow connected with the thought of Edith herself. Why this should be so he did not trouble to inquire. They had become the best of good friends, he told himself, a consummation for which he had devoutly wished, yet for some indefinable reason he was dissatisfied.

He decided that he needed exercise and determined to take a tramp through the country, but on the evening before the day he had set for his excursion his plans were upset by a note from Mrs. Cortlandt, which the clerk handed him. It ran:

Dear Kirk—Stephen has arranged an outing for all three of us, and we are counting on you for tomorrow. It will be a really truly picnic, with all the delightful discomforts of such affairs. You are not to know where we are going until we call for you at 8. Faithfully and mysteriously yours, EDITH CORTLANDT.

The recipient of this kind invitation tossed it aside, with a gesture of impatience. For the moment he experienced a kind of boyish resentment at having his intentions thwarted that seemed out of proportion to the cause. But the emotion soon passed.

The next morning Edith appeared upon the hotel porch. She was alone.

"Where's Mr. Cortlandt?" he inquired.

"Oh, some men arrived last night from Bocas del Toro and telephoned that they must see him today on a matter of importance. I shall have to make up to you for his absence if I am able."

"Where is to be the scene of our revel?"

"Taboga," she said, with eyes sparkling. "You've never been there, but it's perfectly gorgeous. Please call a coach, our boat is waiting, and don't sit on the lunch."

Kirk obeyed, and they went clattering down the deserted brick street. Edith leaned back, with a sigh.

"I'm so glad to get away from that hotel for a day. If you only knew it, Kirk, you've capsized the political calculations of the Panama Conservative party."

"I didn't know I had ever even rocked the boat."

"It runs back to your affair with Ramon."

"Really, did that effect it?"

"Rather. At any rate it gave an excuse for setting things in motion. There had been some doubt about the matter for a long time, and I was only too glad to exert my influence in the right direction, but—this is a picnic to an enchanted island, and here we are talking politics. We mustn't be so serious. School is out, and it's vacation. I want to romp and play and get my face dirty."

The landing was thronged, and at sight of the newcomers loiterers gathered from all sides—a pirate throng, shouting a dozen dialects and forcing Kirk to battle lustily for his luggage. Stepping into a skiff, they were rowed to a launch, and a few moments later were gliding swiftly around the long rock rib that guards the harbor, a copper hued bandit at the wheel, a Nubian giant at the engine and an evil yellow faced desperado sprawling upon the forward deck.

Even before they had come to anchor at Taboga island a dozen boatmen were racing for them and crying for their patronage. At the water's edge they saw a tiny village nestled close against the mountains, its tiled roofs, rust red and grown to moss, its walls faded by wind and weather to delicate mauves and dove colors and greens impossible to describe.

The launch, when it came to rest, seemed suspended in air and beneath it lay an entrancing sea garden. Once the engine had stopped its clatter a sleepy, peaceful silence settled over the harbor, unbroken by wheel or whistle, for in Taboga no one works and there are no vehicles.

"What a wonderful place!" exclaimed the young man fervently. "Why, it's like a dream—it can't be real!" Then, as the boatmen renewed their begging, "I wonder which barge gentleman I'd better hire."

"Take the little boy, please." Edith called to an urchin who was manfully struggling with a pair of oars twice his own length, whereupon the older boatmen began to shove off with many scowls.

"Our choice has offended these genial bandits," Kirk observed as he helped her to a seat. "When shall we tell the lad to bring us off?"

"Four o'clock," answered Mrs. Cortlandt. "I arranged with the captain to be ready at that hour, so, you see, we have the whole day ahead of us."

Across the limpid shallows they glided, bravely propelled by their nine-year-old oarsman, but when the bow of their skiff grated upon the bottom they were still some yards from the shore.

"Looks as if we'd have to wade," said Kirk, then called to one of the nearby boatmen to lend the child a hand. But the fellow replied gruffly in some unintelligible jargon.

"He says he carries his passengers ashore in his arms," Edith translated.

"Really? Competition is spirited even on this heavenly isle. Well, that's easy!" Anthony untied his low shoes, kicked them off and rolled up his trousers.

"Permit me to help you," he said, "without embarrassing our pilot."

She stood up and allowed him to gather her in his arms. Then for the first time she felt his strength as her body leaned to his. Slowly he picked his way ashore while she reclined in his embrace, her arms about his neck. When he deposited her gently upon her feet she saw her face had gone white and that she was trembling.

His own face was glowing as he waded back to fetch the lunch basket and his footgear. Under the circumstances he had done the only natural, the only possible thing, yet it had severely perturbed them both.

The two visitors explored the village, even to the quaint, tawdry chapel, with its impossible blues and rusted gilt, and soon found them eager to investigate the contents of their lunch basket. Taking a random path up the hill, they came at last to a spring of cool water, and here they spread their meal under a mango tree bent beneath tons of fruit.

The afternoon sped quickly. If at times Kirk found his companion regarding him with a strangely timid, half defiant look, he refused to connect it with the episode of their landing.

Promptly at 4 they came down the drunken little main street and out upon the beach. But no launch was in sight.

"Hello! Where's our boat?" exclaimed Kirk.

"The captain told me he'd be ready at 4. Perhaps he has run over to Taboga or—" She hesitated with a troubled frown.

"You told him to wait?"

"Distinctly." Seeing an older man in the square above, she questioned him in Spanish. "This man says the launch left for Panama two hours ago. They went on a Sunday spree. He says they came ashore and bought a lot of liquor, and he heard them quarreling later."

"That means we'll have to get another boat."

"I don't know where we shall find one."

"Neither do I, but there must be some sort of craft that plies back and forth regularly."

"Only once or twice a week, I believe, and it belongs to the sanitarium. Perhaps we'd better wait awhile; our men may come back."

At last, as the sun was dipping into a golden glow, Kirk broke out:

"Gee whiz! We've got to do something. Mr. Cortlandt will be getting worried."

"In all probability he won't know anything about it until too late to come for us. He is dining with those people from Bocas, and may not get back to the Tivoli before midnight."

"Nice fix we're in!" remarked Anthony. "I'd like to lay hands on that captain."

"We may have to stay here all night."

"Well, at least we have a haven of refuge. They'll take us in at the hospital."

"I don't care to ask them. There's some one up there I don't wish to see. That's why I didn't go near the place today."

He laughed to hide his embarrassment. "I'm wondering—what people will say."

"Oh, you mustn't leave me!" she cried in a panic. "I couldn't stay in that awful place alone." She drew a little nearer to him, as if demanding his protection. A wave of tenderness swept over him. She was just a girl, after all, he reflected.

"I—I won't leave you. I'll stay near you," he stammered.

"I won't believe that you could have taken me for the kind of woman who—" "No, no!" he cried in an anguish of self reproach. "I was a fool!"

"No," she said, "I don't—I couldn't bear to think that. Perhaps I was partly to blame. But I didn't think. I ought to have known that no man can really be trusted. But I thought our friendship was so beautiful, and now you're spoiled it."

"It's getting along toward dinner time," he said, "so let's see what we can find in the way of food."

They stumbled out into the unlighted street and began their search, but seen close at hand, the cooking arrangements of Taboga proved most unattractive. But eventually they found a decent looking place, where they were taken in, and, after an interminable wait, food was set before them: chicken, boiled with rice and coconut, black beans and cocoanut, fresh, warm milk and a wondrous assortment of hothouse fruits.

In spite of their equivocal situation, Edith seemed fully to have regained her spirits. Even the prospect of spending the night in this place apparently did not dismay her. They descended to the square again, stared at all the way through open doors and followed by a subdued murmur of comment. Then they sat for a long time watching the stars.

As if in despair over their impossible predicament, Edith gave way to a spirit of reckless vivacity, and Kirk, with a man's somewhat exaggerated sympathy for a woman's sensitive feelings, loyally strove to help her make the best of things in her own way. There was no real concession of her reserve—no sacrifice of the feminine privilege of prompt and complete withdrawal. If he had struck a false note he knew that she would have turned rigid in an instant.

It was on their return to the house that the climax came, leaving him strangely shaken. Their course took them past a tiny cantina. Frightened by a drunken brawl within, she picked up her skirts and fled into the darkness. Kirk stumbling along behind her. At last she stopped out of breath, and he overtook her.

"What happened?" he demanded.

"She's asleep. I found a place for her—

"Not at the sanitarium?"

"No, no. One of these houses. Lord, I'm glad to see you! We'd begun to feel like real castaways. I've been up all night."

"What happened?" It was plain that Mr. Cortlandt was deeply agitated.

"Our boatmen evidently got drunk and pulled out. I tried to get a sailboat, but there weren't any, and it was too rough to try crossing with a skiff."

It took them but a moment to reach the house, and soon the three were back at the water front.

"What a miserable night!" Mrs. Cortlandt complained, stifling a yawn. "I thought you'd never come, Stephen."

"I didn't get back to the Tivoli until midnight, and then I had trouble in finding a boat to bring me over."

"I suppose they were alarmed at the hotel?"

"I said, nothing about it," he returned, quietly, at which his wife's face flushed. Seizing the first occasion, he exclaimed, in a low voice: "God! How unfortunate—at this time. Were you mad?"

She looked at him and her eyes burned, but she said nothing.

rose to wander toward the water front. As the harbor assumed definite form he beheld a launch stealing toward the village and ten minutes later greeted Stephen Cortlandt as that gentleman stepped out of the tender.

"Where's Edith?" eagerly demanded her husband.

"She's asleep. I found a place for her—

"Not at the sanitarium?"

"No, no. One of these houses. Lord, I'm glad to see you! We'd begun to feel like real castaways. I've been up all night."

"What happened?" It was plain that Mr. Cortlandt was deeply agitated.

"Our boatmen evidently got drunk and pulled out. I tried to get a sailboat, but there weren't any, and it was too rough to try crossing with a skiff."

It took them but a moment to reach the house, and soon the three were back at the water front.

"What a miserable night!" Mrs. Cortlandt complained, stifling a yawn. "I thought you'd never come, Stephen."

"I didn't get back to the Tivoli until midnight, and then I had trouble in finding a boat to bring me over."

"I suppose they were alarmed at the hotel?"

"I said, nothing about it," he returned, quietly, at which his wife's face flushed. Seizing the first occasion, he exclaimed, in a low voice: "God! How unfortunate—at this time. Were you mad?"

She looked at him and her eyes burned, but she said nothing.

Features Changing --

But Never for the Worse

Time changes and we change with it, but memory prompts our hearts and tongues to express appreciation for favors past, on this glad New Years Day.

Rushville Laundry

Lee Pyle, Prop.

Phone 1342

DAILY MARKETS

T. H. Reed and Son are quoting the following prices for grain today, January 2, 1914.

	Indianapolis Grain and Livestock.
Wheat	Wheat—Wagon, 95c; No. 2 red 98c. Corn—No. 3, 64c. Oats—No. 2 white, 41½c. Hay—Baled, $17.50 @ 19.50; timothy, $18.50 @ 20.50; mixed, $16.50 @ 17.50. Cattle—$3.00 @ 8.75. Hogs—$7.00 @ 8.10. Sheep—$3.00 @ 5.10. Lambs—$5.00 @ 8.00. Receipts—Cattle, 1,000; hogs, 11,500; sheep, 500.
Corn	At Cincinnati.
Oats	Wheat—No. 2 red, 99c. Corn—No. 2, 66c. Oats—No. 2, 42c. Cattle—$4.00 @ 8.15. Hogs—$5.00 @ 8.20. Sheep—$2.50 @ 4.35. Lambs—$5.75 @ 8.10.
Rye	At Chicago.
Timothy	Wheat—No. 2 red, 96½c. Corn—No. 2, 70c. Oats—No. 2, 38½c. Cattle—Steers, $5.60 @ 9.60; stockers and feeders, $5.00 @ 7.45. Hogs—$5.00 @ 8.00. Sheep—$4.75 @ 6.10. Lambs—$6.75 @ 8.20.
Clover	At St. Louis.
	Wheat—No. 2 red, 95¾c. Corn—No. 2, 68c. Oats—No. 2, 40½c. Cattle—Steers, $5.00 @ 9.75. Hogs—$6.00 @ 8.05. Sheep—$3.75 @ 5.00. Lambs—$5.50 @ 8.25.

POULTRY AND PRODUCE

The following are the ruling prices of the Rushville market, corrected to date—January 2, 1914.

Young Turkeys	15c
Old "Toms"	13c
Geese	8c
Hens and chickens	11c
Springers, light	9c
Ducks	10c
Eggs	25c
Butter	17c

Want Ad Department

Advertisements under this head are charged for at the rate of one-third cent per word for each insertion. The same ad will be placed in the Indianapolis Star and Daily Republican at the combined rate of one cent per word. Found articles of small value will be advertised free of charge.

FOR RENT—Four room house with bath, 422 North Julian street. See Ferd Retherford at Mulno's Store. 253tf.

LOST—Cameo stick pin between my office and traction station. Finder please notify me and receive reward. Dr. F. H. Green, Phone 1102. 2524

WANTED—Situation in private family by lady with 8 year-old boy. Steady work. Address Otto De Witte, R. R. 12, Rushville. 2523.

"Greenfield's First Annual Poultry Pat Stock Show" will be held Jan. 22-24. Catalogues now ready for distribution, address Paul G. Bell, Sec'y. 2522

WANTED LOCAL SOLICITORS—

Live men and women to sell "Lastie Air" insoles. Salary $2.00 to $2.25 per day with commission over and above. Address Lastie Air Co., Rushville, Ind. Gen. Del. 2523.

FOR RENT—Furnished room with bath. See Mrs. John Jones, 534 North Main. 2526

FARM HAND—Married, wants position on farm, good reference. G. F. Wagoner, care Mrs. Innis, 332 North Morgan. 2513.

WANTED—Live wire, either sex, as our representative in Rushville and vicinity. Fine chance. Chambers Supply Co., 1614, Main street, Cincinnati, Ohio. 2503

FOR SALE—2 bay mares coming six years old both heavy in foal, weigh about 3200. Sound. See Geo. T. Billings, R. R. 10. 24912.

FOR SALE—Marlin rifle model 20, in fair order price right if sold soon, also a good trout in good order. Phone 4111-1L-18 or see Ray Kemmer. 24916

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms with bath, rooms or light housekeeping. 220 North Perkins. Phone 3284. 203tf.

WEDDED BLISS
HITS A SNAG

Records Show Almost Have as Many Divorce Suits as Marriage Licenses in Marion County.

OTHER HAPPENINGS IN STATE

Madison County Trustee Out on Bond While Awaiting Ruling of State Supreme Court.

Indianapolis, Jan. 2.—The number of divorce suits filed in Marion county in 1913 was a fraction more than 40 per cent of the number of marriages in the year. Figures taken from the records in the county clerk's office show that 1,560 divorce suits were filed. In the same length of time 3,591 marriage licenses were issued.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 2.—For every two marriage licenses issued by County Clerk Joyce, one divorce case was entered upon the dockets of the courts of Vigo county last year, according to the annual report made public by Clerk Joyce. The total number of marriage licenses issued during the year was 1,234, while there were 689 divorce cases filed on the court dockets.

The total number of divorce decrees granted was 423. Of this number 382 decrees were granted to wives and 61 to husbands. The principal reason offered by wives for divorces was that of "cruel and inhuman treatment," 198 complaints offering that reason as a basis for divorce.

AWAITS RULING ON APPEAL

William W. Brown, at Liberty on Bond, Goes Home.

Ingalls, Ind., Jan. 2.—William W. Brown, released on bond of $10,000 at Marion on appeal to the supreme court after Judge Paulus denied Brown a new trial, has reached his home and says that he expects he will be able to remain. He said that as trustee of Green township he has been able to keep the township affairs well in hand, although he had been in jail in Anderson and Marion since July 9. The trial of Brown's son, George William Brown, aged twenty-seven, will be set when the January term of the Madison circuit court is opened next week. The young man is charged, the same as was his father, with the murder of Albert Hawkins, a constable of Anderson, at St. Louis.

Two Indictments Against Duncan. Bloomfield, Ind., Jan. 2.—A special grand jury has returned two indictments against Edward L. Duncan, who recently went to the home of Tilman Taylor at Linton and shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Lulu Taylor, and seriously injured Taylor. One indictment is for murder and the other is for assault and battery with intent to kill. The Taylors had been married only a week when the shooting occurred, and Mrs. Taylor had been divorced from Duncan only a few days when she married Taylor. Duncan is in jail.

Poor Box Robbed Six Times. Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 2.—Instead of starting the new year with good resolutions, a man who visited St. Ann's Catholic church yesterday celebrated the holiday by robbing the poor box. The amount taken is not known. During the last year the box has been robbed six times.

Child Killed in Coasting Accident. South Bend, Ind., Jan. 2.—A New Year's coasting party of children near here ended in the accidental death of Ellen Kritchley, aged eight, whose lung was pierced by a runner of a sled in a collision with another sled. The girl lived an hour and a half following the accident.

Another $400,000 Loan. Indianapolis, Jan. 2.—After paying off a temporary loan of $400,000 to four Indianapolis banks, the state board of finance authorized the borrowing of the same amount at 5 per cent interest until next June. The new loan was made today.

$25,000 Blaze at North Vernon.

North Vernon, Ind., Jan. 2.—The grocery of J. O. Staples, the dental office of V. H. Black and the local telephone exchange were destroyed by fire which raged for two hours in the Red Men's building. The loss is $25,000.

Fatal Quarrel Over Chicken. Evansville, Ind., Jan. 2.—William Kelly, colored, a restaurant proprietor, shot and probably fatally wounded Clint Ray, colored, during a quarrel that resulted from the loss of a chicken. Ray left in Kelly's restaurant.

Short Courses in Dairying. Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 2.—The short courses in dairying at Purdue will begin Jan. 19. Two separate courses are to be given, the farm dairy course and the creamery course. Each course is of eight weeks' duration.

Swifts' digester tankage for Hogs. J. P. Frazee. 24915

PANCHO VILLA

Picturesque Figure Running a State With a Drawn Revolver.

INDIA TEA

Its Strength and Richness Appeal to Coffee Drinkers

300 CUPS TO THE POUND
ONE TEASPOONFUL MAKES TWO CUPS
PUBLISHED BY THE GROWERS OF INDIA TEA

COFFEE! COFFEE! COFFEE!

There is nothing that adds to the enjoyment of a meal so much as a cup of good coffee. The meal may be perfect in every other way but if the coffee is bad the entire meal is spoiled. The flavor of our coffee is proverbial. Try a pound this week. You'll enjoy it. Prices from 20c to 45c per pound.

L. L. ALLEN
Phone 1420
Grocer

COMBINATION SALE

Thursday, Jan. 15, 1914,

To be held at the Fair Grounds, consisting of 30 Chester White Brood Sows, all bred, 15 registered and 15 eligible; 59 South Dows, all bred, and one Buck. A lot of good Horses and Jersey Cows. Anybody wishing to consign anything in this sale can do so by seeing the Secretary.

J. H. BUSCHMOHLE,
P. A. MILLER, Treasurer.
CLEN MILLER, Auctioneer.

Sale Commences at 12 O'clock.

25 CLOSED WINTER BUGGIES

I will sell these on time without interest until September 1, 1914. These are the finest made on earth today and this is no lie. Ask Sam Young, the hog buyer. He pays the best prices for the best hogs, and I sell the best Buggy of any firm in the county on time or cash. The reason I am selling them on long time is that this winter has been so mild they don't sell very fast. This is a chance of your life to own the finest closed rig ever brought to the city so come and see me and buy one before you leave the store.

To the Farmers

I am making Heavy Harness for spring work and if you want any of them come in and leave your order for the kind you want and we will build them and give you a guarantee on every piece that goes into the harness. If you find anything wrong bring it back and I will make it satisfactory. Time or Cash. Call on

J. W. Tompkins
First Street
South of Court House.

THE MADDEN BROTHERS CO.

Machinists

REPAIR WORK IS OUR SPECIALTY

Have your old Machinery repaired and made good as new. Steam and Gas Engine Repairing a Specialty. Call and see our St. Mary's Semi-Automatic Gas and Gasoline Engines before you buy. 2½, 4 and 7 horse power

BUILT FOR HARD SERVICE ON THE FARM
We Grind and Sharpen Lawn Mowers, Mowers, Sickles, Plow Points, Cutter Knives, Etc.

Phone 1632
517-519 West Second Street

Xmas is over and a thing of the past, but

CLARKS PURITY FLOUR

is like Gold Dollars always in demand and if not already a customer begin the New Year right by using Clark's Purity Flour, the Flour that satisfies, costs a little more, but worth the difference.

TALKS OF INTEREST ARE ON THE PROGRAM

Things Pertaining to Rural Life Will be Discussed at Farmers Institute at Falmouth.

PROF. R. G. OGG WILL SPEAK

Addresses of interest are on the program for the farmers' institute which will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall at Falmouth next Monday. The morning session will open at ten o'clock with a prayer by the Rev. Mr. Steady, followed by a piano solo by Miss Marion Fry. Prof. R. G. Ogg of Greencastle will speak on the subject, "Revival of Rural Life." An address by Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley of Liberty on "An Investment Worth While" will close the morning meeting.

The afternoon session will open at 1:30 with a selection by the Fairview high school orchestra and will be followed by a talk by Mrs. Stanley on the topic, "How to Keep Young Folks on the Farm." Following a piano duet by Mrs. Ruby Haekleman and Miss Marion Fry, Prof. Ogg will speak on the subject, "Types of Soil and Their Treatment." After music by the high school orchestra, announcement of the awards in the corn contest will be made. The corn will be selected by the high school pupils without outside suggestions. The Ladies Aid Society will serve dinner at noon.

700 TEAMSTERS STILL ON STRIKE

But Outside of This There Are Few Reminders of Recent Trouble—Much Suffering Reported.

UNION CONDITIONS EXIST

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Jan. 2.—Seven hundred teamsters, still on strike for higher wages and better working conditions, are being relieved by the teamster's union and other labor organizations. There is considerable suffering among the strikers' families.

Except occasional police court scenes, there are few reminders of the strike. About 2,500 teamsters, members of the union, are wearing union buttons and work under union conditions, concessions won recently when the strike, accompanied by violence, attracted widespread attention. Not one of the big employers, banded together in a protective committee, has submitted to the union's demands. It is the employees of these concerns who are still on strike. Pickets are occasionally brought into police court for violence.

GOES TO START A REVIVAL

Rev. F. B. Stearns Will Open Meeting at Bellville, Ill.

The Rev. F. B. Stearns will leave tomorrow for Bellville, Illinois, where he will start a protracted meeting next Sunday. All the Protestant churches of the city will join in the revival. Bellville is a city of 25,000 inhabitants and is just outside of East St. Louis. After the meeting there, the Mr. Stearns will go to Oxford, Ohio, for a union revival meeting.

WANTS FIFTH TERM.

(By United Press.) New Albany, Ind., Jan. 2.—Representative W. E. Cox has formally announced himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for his fifth term in Congress. He will have opposition for the nomination. Lew W. Obannon of Corydon is a candidate and the names of Judges W. C. Utz of this city and Thomas B. Buskirk of Paoli have been mentioned.

ORGANIZATION IS FORMED

Fairview Hopes to Accomplish Much Through Y. M. C. A.

A Y. M. C. A. has been formed in Fairview and meetings will be held the second and fourth Saturdays of each month. The meetings will be held in the school building there. At the first meeting officers were elected and the organization hopes to accomplish much in a social way in that community. The officers of the organization are as follows: Ralph Gross, president; Berle Hinchman, vice-president; Lowell Vickery, secretary-treasurer. The executive committee composed of the following members: The Rev. Mr. Speedy; The Rev. Elmer Oldham and Prof. Jeffrey, of the Fairview schools.

PRESIDENT SENDS GREETINGS OF YEAR

Head of B. & O. System Regrets That Force Had to be Reduced Because of Dull Business.

MESSAGE RECEIVED HERE

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio system, yesterday sent New Year's greetings over the wires to all the employes of the system and the message was received at the C. H. & D. station here. Reference is made to the flood and the president regrets the fact that the force had to be reduced to curtail expenses because of the small volume of business at this particular time.

"It is hoped," he adds, "that conditions will soon mend to such an extent that the business of this company may again be on the basis of one year ago and the forces be fully restored. While under existing conditions the most rigorous economy is necessary, it should be understood clearly that nothing is to be done which will in the slightest degree adversely affect the safety of operating."

The president wishes all of the employes a prosperous year and expresses appreciation for their loyal services.

C. S. LEE MAY BE NEW SECRETARY

Rushville Man Candidate For Secretaryship of State Association Resulting From Merger.

RECORD SHOULD HELP HIM

Clifford S. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lee of Jersey City and formerly connected with the Daily Republican, is seeking the secretaryship of the Indiana Association of Manufacturers & Commerce, which was formed by merging the Indiana Manufacturers & Shippers' association and the Manufacturers' Bureau of Indiana. Mr. Lee was, until the dissolution of the association, the secretary of the first named organization.

Mr. Lee has the backing of some of the best interests of the state and there seems to be little doubt but that he will be selected at the meeting of the directors early this month. While employed for three years as political writer for the Star League of newspapers in Indiana, he gained the acquaintance of ten thousand professional and business men, statesmen and politicians. In the two years of his service as field secretary, he became acquainted with a thousand manufacturers and business men, obtained 503 firms as members of the association, made the association a profit of $1,000 and was later placed in charge of the office.

OUR MAN OF THE HOUR IN MEXICO

How Admiral Fletcher Climbed the Road to Fame.

WAS AN IOWA COUNTRY BOY

Determined to Be a Sailor When Fifteen and Went Through Annapolis With Flying Colors—His Subsequent Activities and Study of Ordnance Paved Way For Future Honors.

An interesting sketch of Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, the American commanding officer in Mexican waters, appears in the New York Times, excerpts from which are here given. They are particularly timely in view of the fact that Admiral Fletcher has the most important command that has devolved upon any officer of the American navy since the battle of Santiago.

To begin with the boyhood of the man whose pennant flies from the foremast of the battleship Louisiana, the flagship of the third division of the United States Atlantic fleet, he was born near Oskaloosa, Ia., Nov. 23, 1855. Soon after his fifteenth birthday he decided to enter the lists for the Annapolis appointment from the Fourth Iowa congressional district. He won the appointment with flying colors.

In 1875 Fletcher was graduated one of the honor men of a brilliant class. For a single year he served as a midshipman on sea service, and in 1876 he was made an ensign. He made a specialty of ordnance, in which branch of the service he was subsequently to become one of the navy's greatest authorities.

On April 1, 1882, Fletcher became a lieutenant of the junior grade. Seven years pass and he is one of the best known younger ordnance experts in the navy. Ten years more and Fletcher is a full-fledged lieutenant of the senior grade and recognized as one of the really great ordnance experts of the navy.

His Work During Spanish War.

A few more years and the Spanish-American war is looming up dark ahead. There is no longer any doubt that the conflict is at hand.

Throughout the few months the struggle with Spain lasted Fletcher was at his desk in the navy department, one of the very busiest and most efficient men in Washington.

During this time Fletcher's active brain was busy thinking out a lot of new things to improve the ordnance arm and in consequence the efficiency of the American fleets.

It was not until the close of the war with Spain that Admiral Fletcher was ordered to sea, there to begin the service that culminated in the supreme command in Mexican waters and brought his name forward as a possible successor of Rear Admiral Badger as commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

In March, 1904, Fletcher was promoted to commander after having served as the commanding officer of the gunboats Kanawha and Eagle. Soon after this promotion he was made inspector of ordnance in charge of the torpedo station at Newport, serving in that capacity until March 15, 1905. Then he was again ordered to sea, this time as chief of staff of the Asiatic fleet, which position he relinquished in November of the same year to take his first really important sea command, that of the cruiser Raleigh, Coghill's old ship.

For two years, or until February, 1907, Fletcher retained the Raleigh command, and then home again he came to assume one of the most important positions in the Naval War college at Newport. From Newport he returned to duty in Washington as a member of the special ordnance board.

In May, 1908, Fletcher was made a captain and given the command of the battleship Vermont, which he retained until February, 1910.

Got Flag Rank in 1911.

Next we hear of Fletcher as an aid on the staff of Secretary of the Navy Meyer, and it was during that service, in October, 1911, that he was promoted to flag rank. On Aug. 1 of last year he was again sent to sea, this time as the rear admiral commanding the fourth division of the Atlantic fleet, and he has been with the fleet ever since.

"What kind of a man is Fletcher?" an officer of the Atlantic fleet staff was asked.

"He is what I would describe as the best product of Annapolis—clean cut, determined, conservative, efficient to the last degree, just, and with it all lovable and respected by every officer and man with whom he is associated," was the reply. "He never jumps too quickly, but he is always ready to act the moment the time comes to act."

County Pays For Triplets.

The Orange county (Cal.) board of supervisors is on record with a standing offer of $100 reward for each set of triplets born there. The first reward has been given to Mrs. Otto H. Summers, who recently presented her husband with three little Summerses. The supervisors formally voted Mrs. Summers $100 and decided to make a standing reward for all triplets.

ARLINGTON WINS FROM CARTHAGE

Lets Visitors Down With Two Field Goals and Proves Easy Victor 44 to 6.

STILL AFTER RUSHVILLE

The fast Arlington high school basketball team defeated the Carthage high school five in a well attended game Wednesday night Dec. 31 at Carthage. This is the second game of the season on a noor, for Arlington.

The offensive ability of the team was well shown, although one of the regulars was absent, by the stellar work of Alsman, the diminutive forward; Hutchinson and Hester also did good work. Hester toying with both his men throughout. The defense is shown by the two field goals registered by Carthage.

The Carthage boys played a nice game; Branson, Pierce and Shuman doing good work, for their team.

Arlington plays Milroy in the near future and desires games with other High School teams, especially Rushville.

The line-up for the game:

A. H. S.	C. H. S.
Alsman	Dyer, Branson
	Forward
Hutchinson	Winslow
	Forward
Hester	Pierce
L. Winslow	Shunaman
	Guard
Hodge	Rutherford
	Guard

Field goals: Alsman 10, Hutchinson 7, Hester 3, L. Winslow, Dyer, Pierce. Foul goals: Alsman 2, Winslow, Pierce. Referee, Henly.

WILL NOT MOVE ORPHANS

Henry County Makes Arrangements to Keep Them at Spiceland.

The Henry county commissioners have decided not to transfer the children located at the Spiceland Orphans home to Indianapolis. The commissioners some time ago decided to make the change but now they have completed arrangements with Mrs. Harvey, the matron at the home and she will take care of the children indefinitely. It is understood that some pressure was brought to bear on the board in order to keep the children in Spiceland.

In March, 1904, Fletcher was promoted to commander after having served as the commanding officer of the gunboats Kanawha and Eagle. Soon after this promotion he was made inspector of ordnance in charge of the torpedo station at Newport, serving in that capacity until March 15, 1905. Then he was again ordered to sea, this time as chief of staff of the Asiatic fleet, which position he relinquished in November of the same year to take his first really important sea command, that of the cruiser Raleigh, Coghill's old ship.

For two years, or until February, 1907, Fletcher retained the Raleigh command, and then home again he came to assume one of the most important positions in the Naval War college at Newport. From Newport he returned to duty in Washington as a member of the special ordnance board.

In May, 1908, Fletcher was made a captain and given the command of the battleship Vermont, which he retained until February, 1910.

Got Flag Rank in 1911.

Next we hear of Fletcher as an aid on the staff of Secretary of the Navy Meyer, and it was during that service, in October, 1911, that he was promoted to flag rank. On Aug. 1 of last year he was again sent to sea, this time as the rear admiral commanding the fourth division of the Atlantic fleet, and he has been with the fleet ever since.

"What kind of a man is Fletcher?" an officer of the Atlantic fleet staff was asked.

"He is what I would describe as the best product of Annapolis—clean cut, determined, conservative, efficient to the last degree, just, and with it all lovable and respected by every officer and man with whom he is associated," was the reply. "He never jumps too quickly, but he is always ready to act the moment the time comes to act."

County Pays For Triplets.

The Orange county (Cal.) board of supervisors is on record with a standing offer of $100 reward for each set of triplets born there. The first reward has been given to Mrs. Otto H. Summers, who recently presented her husband with three little Summerses. The supervisors formally voted Mrs. Summers $100 and decided to make a standing reward for all triplets.

A Large Membership Began

December 29th, 1913,

In Our Christmas Savings Club

Are You a Member? If not do you not want to join the Hundreds already in and create a fund for your

Christmas of 1914

The 1 Cent
Class Pays
$12.75

The 2 Cent
Class Pays
$25.50

The 5 Cent
Class Pays
$63.75

We have other Classes to suit all Members

The sooner you begin the easier it will be to join. Start your membership today.

The Peoples Loan and Trust Co. Rushville, Ind.

"The Home For Savings"

As A New Year's Greeting

to our many customers and friends, we extend our best wishes for the year 1914 and wish to thank our customers for their past patronage and assure you that we appreciate your business and pledge ourselves to still continue to give you the same service during the year 1914 as we have in the past. To you who have not been customers we extend an invitation to visit our store and examine our line of vehicles, then ask your neighbor what kind of road service our vehicles give and how he likes the one he owns. Make our store your headquarters when in Rushville and learn where to buy vehicles that will give you road service, satisfy you, and save you money.

WILL SPIVEY at Oneal Brothers

It Pails To Advertise

MONUMENTS!

MONUMENTS!

Our stock of monuments this season surpasses anything we have heretofore carried, embracing a neat selection from the modestly plain to the elaborately carved from model designs.

The products from the numerous quarries in the Barre, Vermont, district vary, not alone in color, but also in quality of stock. Who selects yours? J. B. SCHRICHE & Sons

WE GIVE S. & H. GREEN TRADING STAMPS

Here is the Best Investment

For you who have received money as a Christmas present, let us suggest that you put it into a beautifully tailored suit or a warm and snug winter coat. Now is the time that your money will almost

Do Double Duty.

The assortment is ample, the fabrics and styles are up to the minute, and there is a wide variety of colors. We only ask that you grant us the opportunity of proving to you that we can

Save You Money

SLASHED PRICES.

Prevail now on all strictly holiday goods. If still there are friends to be remembered, it will pay you to investigate our prices. Perhaps there is some article you would like to have in your home—if so, take advantage of this underpricing.

FOR THE CHILDREN — We have about 25 dressed dolls left which we will sacrifice at a fraction of their value. Save the difference.

The Mauzy Company

The Corner Store

The Daylight Store

